THEATERS

CENTURY VAUDEVILLE. Four acts of vaudeville and a five-reel photoplay are the attractions tonight and tomorrow afternoon and night. "Finegan in Society" presented by LaBlanche and company, which headlines the variety bill, was designed for laughing purposes only and fulfills its mission nicely. The Mast Kiddies, offering a miniature song and dance revue, are clever juveniles who delight in pleasing. Faulkner and Ward, in the comedy skit, "Blow Your Horn," and Fred Pero, in his European juggling surprise, completes the bill.

"THE PLUNGER." A cyclonic drama of frenzied finances with a delightful romantic theme running throughout its five breathless reels, is "The Plunger," featuring popular George Walsh, and shown at the Temple theater today. The story, as the title indicates, concerns the district of Wall Street, and the atmosphere, showing the floor of the stock exchange and the curb market, adds to the excitement. Virginia Vail, a pleasing young actress, has the role of the girl in love with the handsome young broker. A comedy, entitled "After Bedtime," is an added attraction.

Tomorrow, "Beware of the Bride," features pretty Eileen Percy. ENID BENNETT AT LINCOLN. At the Lincoln theater again today is shown "The Plunger," featuring popular George Walsh, and shown at the Temple theater today. The story, as the title indicates, concerns the district of Wall Street, and the atmosphere, showing the floor of the stock exchange and the curb market, adds to the excitement. Virginia Vail, a pleasing young actress, has the role of the girl in love with the handsome young broker. A comedy, entitled "After Bedtime," is an added attraction.

GEORGIA JUBILEE SINGERS ENTERTAIN "The Jubilee Singers," a colored group from Macon, Ga., furnished a number of selections in their quaint and interesting fashion at a social and entertainment given at the First Christian church last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society. A comedy skit was presented by Miss Marie Bryn, Paul Hepler and Mrs. Jacqua and furnished much amusement. Following their program the crowd adjourned to the amusement, where the ladies had prepared various booths, stores and exchanges. Mrs. John Wicamp's division conducted "The Country Store," while Mrs. M. D. Pulmer's division conducted the bakery and pastry booth.

CLUB ELECTIONS OFFICERS. Miss Hilda Groveski was elected president of "The Jolly Ten" club Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Marie Zolman, 601 W. Lawrence st. Miss Marie Smith was elected vice president, and Miss Mary Donath, secretary and treasurer. Following the business hour a social time was enjoyed, musical selections being the feature of entertainment. Refreshments were served.

The photograph, a very recent one, shows British troops battering down a door with a pickaxe in Dublin. These searching parties are all well armed and equipped. They are holding their bayonets in readiness in case any one makes a rush from within. Sinn Fein disorders seem to be increasing daily, and as many British guards as there are in the bigger cities of Ireland, fighting continues. In a recent raid British police and Sinn Feiners engaged in a pitched battle, in which many were wounded, between 100 and 500 Sinn Feiners taking part in the fighting. The din of the fighting could be heard more than nine miles away.
